

NTU The Univenture Difference

Unique Safety-sleeve®

Exclusive to all of our products is the patented combination of Safety-sleeve® materials used by Univenture to protect the playback side of a disc during storage.

Keeps dirt away from discs

In all Safety-sleeve® products, the disc is suspended above a soft, non-woven, clean room material which uses no chemical binders and will not shed or form lint. Dirt and minute debris fall through the fabric and become trapped away from the disc where they cannot scratch the playing surface or cause distortion during playback.

Less bulk and clutter

As a packaging and storage system, Safety-sleeves® are compact and significantly less bulky. More discs can be stored in less space and shipped at lower costs.

Less risk

Safety-sleeves® also eliminate much of the risk of damage that can occur with other types of packaging. Felt or paper liners and cardboard sleeves can easily scratch a disc's surface as debris is trapped between the disc and its packaging.

Full Service Manufacturing

Univenture is proud to be a full service packaging provider, offering many services that make your packaging job easier.

U-1000 Technology

- Automated disc insertion
- Lower sleeve cost
- Faster turnaround

Developed in-house, our unique U-1000 technology significantly accelerates package production through innovative and efficient manufacturing technologies. Discs can be automatically inserted during the sleeve manufacturing process, allowing a single step in the production process to replace several assembly steps. Greater economies of scale are created because of quick, easy setups and fast cycle times. This is ideal for either large runs or multiple short runs that can be run consecutively. The overall cost of the U-1000 Safety-sleeves® plus disc insertion is low enough to compete with most packaging on the market including Tyvek® sleeves and jewelboxes.

Multi-color Flexographic Printing

NEW

- Your logo or message printed directly on the Univenture Safety-sleeves®
- In-house process saves time and money
- Unlimited packaging opportunities

Univenture now offers multi-color printing directly on our products. The perfect solution for repackaged discs or information that just won't fit on the disc itself. More cost effective than printing and storing separate graphic inserts.

Post-production Services

Save time and money with Univenture's full range of post-production services.
