

Cormac O'Reilly - Bio

	Organizations & Roles	Contribution
1968 to 1980	Abbey National (Financial Services) Unilever (Sales & Distribution) CSC (Computer Services) British Oxygen (Industrial Conglomerate) Engineer, Project & Function Management	Programing, Systems Analysis, Business IT & Functional Management. In BOC HQ and Medical business Strategic Planning
1980 to 1991	Schlumberger (Oil Filed Services) Divisional CIO Shell (Oil Company HQ) Transformation Management	Decentralization & IT Multinational transformation programmes that resulted in competitive advantage & significant cost reduction. Ran internal consulting organizations in Europe & US and Smart Card business development
1991 to 1995	Costain (International Construction) Main Board Director	Transformed and repositioned IT to operate as an integral part of the main stream business. Cut costs 50%, closed project management business and oversaw procurement function.
1995 to 2000	Digital Equipment (Computer Services) CIO - Worldwide Service Division Wang Global CIO & CTO	Reduced IT Costs while improving its effectiveness. Deeply involved in acquisitions consolidation programs. Evolved internal IT organization into a customer showcase and worked key revenue relationships (Accenture, Microsoft, EDI etc.)
2000 to 2004	Celerant (Operational Consulting) Head - Technology Transformation Practice	Established and ran the European & USA customer facing practice
Since 2005	Independent Advisor & Consultant Technology, Transformation & Strategy	Engagements in Europe with diverse companies included HP, Unisys, AEA Tech. & IMS. Additionally involved in three small start-ups
Education & Professional	B.Sc. (USEB) Fellow of the British Computer Society Industrial Fellow -Kingston University Member of Worshipful Company of Information Technologists Freeman of the City of London	