To celebrate Norwich Puppet Theatre's 25th Anniversary, this International Festival of Puppet Theatre from 22 October to 2 November presented a rich variety of companies.

The opening weekend was dedicated to Spanish and Portuguese work.

First up was Jordi Bertran's 'Antologia' from Barcelona; a classic cabaret show with marionettes. Louis Armstrong, dancing skeletons, and a figure blowing a whole series of beautifully manipulated bubbles with the addition of smoke effects. This was all a bit Euro Show biz but there was no doubting the skilled presentation.
