

WELCOME TO A STUDY OF THE BOOK OF PHILIPPIANS

1. I have had the privilege of teaching this study to the congregation of Vistoso Community Church beginning in September of 2007. Their positive response to the Word of God, and encouragement of me as a teacher, is a large part of what motivates me to both study and write. I am grateful to them.

2. I am trying a new approach to preserving the results of my Bible study efforts. In order to encourage the daily intake of the Word, I have broken the material down into small pieces, which I hope are suitable for daily devotions. I have tried to both summarize what was covered during the oral teaching of the material, as well as added amplifying information. My one concern, is that there may not be enough material for those who did not attend the verbal presentation of the material. Perhaps you can let me know what you think. In fact, I would be happy to receive feedback on anything from ways to improve the devotional to whether or not you find it helpful. I can be reached via the following email:

I have been blessed by the study of this great portion of God's Word, and hope I can pass at least a portion of the blessing to you.

In His grace,

Kevin
