

Web Site NameURL

Essential Components	Top Notch	OK	Poor	None	Comment or Helpful Ideas
Digital Reference (Cyber library)
Specific resources for your student's assignments (links, pathfinders, bibliographies)
Copies of teacher assignments
Productivity tools and templates
Links to other media centers and public libraries
Parent information
Reviews, Book Lists, and Reading Lists
Links to ALA, best links
Research and citation assistance
Special events, news, newsletters
Fun sites for kids
Teacher resources
Policies
Technology help sheets
Advocacy impact studies, local reports
Information about the Media Center & Media Program
Information about how the kids are using the media center and resources (curriculum connections)
Links to classroom/teacher web sites
Photos of kids
Other
					Turn over for IASL criteria

Web Site NameURL

Overall evaluation (based on IASL Criteria)	Top Notch	OK	Poor	None	Comment or Helpful Ideas
Evidence of media specialist involvement
Site/Page supports the school media center/ program's goals
Content is unique to the school and media center; not a generic model that could be any page
Site/Page supports the school's goals
Visual appeal (appropriate images, eye catching, consistent)
Organization of information on the page/site
Writing is professional, free of typos and spelling errors
Easy to navigate, links work
Appropriate for the audience
Content is current and there is evidence that page is updated
Technical quality (appropriate use of technology, not necessarily leading-edge technology)
Value of the page/site as a model
The site/page is fun to explore
Contact information and physical address provided
Overall comments and ideas I can use:					