Dear Education Technology Colleague,

You are invited to join with educational technologists and teachers on Saturday, February 27, 2010, for the Silicon Valley CUE Technology Conference, serving educators in the greater Bay Area. This year it will be held at The Harker School in San Jose.

250 to 300 participants are expected this year composed primarily of site level technology leaders and teachers from eleven counties in the Bay Area. Our exhibit area will be located in the Atrium in a recently completed state of the art building. The conference runs from 8:00 A.M. until 3:30 P.M., with 2 hours of session-free time in the day's schedule. Exhibit time is 8:00 AM to 1:30 PM. Set-up time is 7-8 AM Saturday morning or 7-9 PM Friday evening.

You are invited to participate by providing a display and demonstration of your products or services. The fee for participation is $150 or $125 with a door prize for each 6' x 3' uncovered table. We will furnish electrical power and wireless Internet connection, and we ask you to provide your own power strips and a table cover with your product display.

Door prizes are an integral part of this conference and each exhibitor is highly encouraged to bring one nice prize. Please provide information about your door prize in the space allotted on the registration form. Door prizes are drawn throughout the day in the exhibit area encouraging participants to frequently visit the exhibits. Contributing exhibitors will be acknowledged as the prizes are given out.

If you cannot attend, but would still like participate in the conference, you may provide a door prize and/or send us your product literature to be placed in every conference participant's tote bag and listing in our Conference Program for a fee of $50. Call or email me for more information.
