

Ma/H #10
22/20 #1/20
F to B and stap

name _____

date _____

1. Why were the dancers singing to the Great Spirits?

2. Describe She-Who-Is-Alone's warrior doll. Give lots of details.

3. How did She-Who-Is-Alone know that the Great Spirits would want her doll?

4. What do you think would have happened if the girl had not sacrificed her doll?

5. What happened before She-Who-Is-Alone decided to sacrifice her doll?

6. What caused She-Who-Is-Alone to wake up in the morning?

7. What kind of flowers do you think grow in Texas today?

8. When the people came out of their tipis, they could scarcely believe their eyes. What does this mean?

9. What was the purpose of the little girl's sacrifice?

10. Why did the people decide to call the little girl "One-Who-Dearly-Loved-Her-People"?

11. What is something you would do with your most valued possession?

12. Who was the opposite of selfish in the story?

- the warrior
- the Comanches sleeping in the tipis
- She-Who-Is-Alone
- the woman with the blanket

13. Circle all the things that can cause suffering:

- | | | | |
|-----------|----------|-------------|-----------|
| drought | hunger | forgiveness | plentiful |
| thievery | fiesta | smiling | happiness |
| celebrate | trickery | famine | playing |

14. What two things were burnt in the story?

- the doll and the tipis
- the twigs and the buckskin
- the doll and the warrior
- the doll and the twigs

15. The buffalo will be plentiful again. What does this mean?

- There will not be any buffalo.
- There will be enough buffalo.
- The buffalo will be scarce.
- There will not be enough buffalo.

16. The moccasins had beaded laces. What does this mean?

- The laces were tied.
- The laces were untied.
- The laces snapped.
- The laces had small colorful round things on them.

17. If you were hurt at school, who could heal you? Choose the best answer.

- | | |
|-----------------------------------|------------------------------------|
| <input type="radio"/> your friend | <input type="radio"/> your teacher |
| <input type="radio"/> the nurse | <input type="radio"/> Mrs. Waters |

18. What would a polished stone look like?

- | | |
|---------------------------------|-----------------------------|
| <input type="radio"/> dull | <input type="radio"/> rough |
| <input type="radio"/> brilliant | <input type="radio"/> peas |

The Comanche People were suffering from the _____ and famine and they wondered what _____ do. For three days, the dancers _____ and sang and asked the Great _____, what the Comanche people must do, _____ they got no answer and no _____ rains. So, the Comanche Indians continued to _____ especially the older and younger weaker _____, and many Indians lost their families. One _____, the shaman returned from the hill with the _____ from the Great Spirits, that we have been _____ and someone must sacrifice their most _____ possession. Then the selfish people did not _____ to give up their most valued _____, but She-Who-Is-Alone _____ to sacrifice for the other _____. That night, the brave little Indian _____ burned her valuable warrior doll to _____ drought and famine stop. After the _____ and twigs were burnt she scattered the _____ in all directions of the home of the _____. The next morning, when the Comanche _____ woke up they saw a miraculous _____ of brilliant blue flowers and they were forgiven for being _____. An unselfish Comanche girl ended the _____ by sacrificing her most valued possession.

The Comanche Indians were suffering from the terrible _____ and famine and they wondered what to do. _____ three days, the dancers danced and sang to _____ the Great Spirits what they should do to _____ the drought but no healing rains came. So, _____ People continued to suffer and die, especially the _____ young and the very old, and many people _____ their families but they still didn't know how _____ solve their problem. One day, the shaman came _____ the hill with news from the Great Spirits _____ he told the people they had become _____ and they should make a burnt offering of _____ most valued possession to end the drought. Then, _____ selfish people didn't want to give up their _____ possessions, but one little girl named She-Who-Is-Alone decided to _____ her special doll that was the only thing _____ had left to remember her family. That night, _____ burned her doll in a fire and _____ the ashes in the wind because she hoped _____ sacrifice would end her People's suffering. The next _____, everyone woke up and saw beautiful bluebonnets _____ on the hill and rain falling from the _____ and they knew they had been forgiven. One _____ little girl ended her People's suffering by _____ her most valued possession.