

Human Evolutionary Anatomy

(02HUB217)

January 2003

2 Hours

Answer FOUR questions in Section A

Answer ONE question in Section B

Calculators are not permitted.

Each sections carries equal marks.

Section A

50% of Marks

Write short notes on FOUR of the following:

1. The major discrepancies in primate classification.
2. What anatomical features identify the genus Homo?
3. How are teeth used to identify primate diet?
4. What features are used to define a primate?
5. What features of the postcranial skeleton are linked to bipedalism?
6. How can the age at death be calculated from skeletal remains?

Section B

50% of Marks

Write an essay on ONE of the following:

7. Discuss how features of the skull can be used for primate classification.
8. Discuss how the primate locomotor system can be investigated.

Module Moderator

Internal Examiner